Ruth Makes 19th Home Run as Yankees Again Trounce Tigers—Giants and Dodgers Beaten

Thirty-Four Thousand "Souls" Wax Riotous at Polo Grounds

In Addition to Lively Ball Game, the Disciples of Hit and Run Are Entertained by Dame Gossip, Dame Scold and Dame Procrastination

By Charles A. Taylor

Thirty-four thousand souls fought their way to the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon to see the scheduled ball game between the Yankees and the Tigers. The word "souls" is used most advisedly, for it was the Sabbath. A fan is a fan on weekdays, but on Sunday he deserves the higher classification. Well, these souls who sweltered, jeered, cheered and moaned under Coogan's Bluff yesterday got much more than their admission fees and war taxes combined called for, and they threw away their rain checks as early as the third inning, for everybody was satisfied.

How Dame Procrastination chuckled when the time-clock registered two hours and forty-eight minutes.

As for the ball game there were two big innings for both the Yanks and the Tigers. The fifth and the eighth netted a total of cleven runs for the homenine, while the sixth and the eighth harvested six tallies for the visitors. This fifth spasm of our boys was a wonder. The Tigers were leading, 2 to i, when it happened. Schang hit safely to right and the paracle began. Shawkey bunted safely, Roth did the same, and the bases were filled. Captain Peckinpaugh tripled and the bases were emptied save for Peck. Babe Ruth knocked a home run into the upper right field stand, his unneteenth of the season.

Pipp singled off Sutherland's glove.

Meusel doubled. Baker flied to Cobh, but Pipp scored on Ward's lift to Veach. Schang made his second single of the inning and Meusel counted. Shawkey also collected a second hit for the inning, but Jenes tossed out Roth.

The Tiger runs in the sixth followed a single by Cobb, an error by Peck and a home run to right center from the anote runs, a double error by Pipp starting them on their way. A triple by Heilman and a bese on balls to Jones forced Snawkey out of the box in favor of Quinn. Blue then strolled and Bassler singled before Quinn steadied and retired the side.

The Yankees with Dutch Leonard as the opposing moundsman had a merry time in the eighth, which Roth opened with a single to right. Peckinpaugh next drove the ball into the left field bleachers. A double by Ruth and singles by Pipp, Meusel and Ward followed until four runs had been tallied, settling the ball game.

Aaron Ward was responsible for the two runs scored by the Tigers in the third inning. After Bassler had fanned Aaron booted Sutherland's easy grounder, Young walked and Bush bunted safetly, filling the bases.

pec at Dispatch to The Tribune ST. LOUIS, June 12. In a game that pristled with exciting moments the ST. LOUIS, June 12.—In a game that bristled with exciting moments the Giants were beaten to-day by a score of 4 to 3 by the fast-coming Cardinals. It was the Giants' fifth consecutive defeat and the Cardinals' ninth consecutive victory. Jess Barnes opposed Bill Pertica at the start, but Jess did not go the route, while Pertica did.

Jess was pulled out with the Giants trailing by one run in the eighth inning to make room for a pinch hitter. Slim Sallee replaced him and stuck until the Cardinals began their big "push" in the ninth that won the game for them, when he was yonked to let Fred Toney finish.

Exciting as were the innings from the first to the eighth, the big thrill was reserved for the ninth. In the Giants' half of the last round, Curtis Walker playing in right field in place of the disabled Ross Young, doubled to right center and Johnny Monroe, playing second base in the new arrangement of the Giant infield, hammered the ball into the right field stand. Those two blows, delivered with the Cardinals leading by a score of 2 to 1, seemingly put the game on the ice for the Giants, but the Cardinals were not beaten, by any means.

King Replaces Brown

King Replaces Brown Clemons was first up in the home team's half of the ninth and he shot a single to center. Dilhoefer was put on first base to run for the slow-footed Clemons and Mann was sent up to bat for Pertica. At this point John McGraw pulled Brown out of center field and assigned king to that post in the event that there would be occasion for some throwing. Mann laid down a bunt in front of the plate and beat it out.

The Pittsburgh National League leaders apparently have overcome their unsteadiness and are in form again to set the pace for the other pennant contenders. The Cleveland Americans narrowly escaped being ousted from their top position by New York last it out.

Janvrin batted for Jack Smith, and after he had bunted two fouls Sallee was taken out and Toney rushed in. Janvrin grounded to Kelly and Fournier was an easy victim on a pop fly to Bancroft. Stock, however, slammed the hall to right field for two bases and Dilhoefer and Mann clattered over the plate with the runs that decided the pastime.

The upward rush of the St. Louis Nationals, who scored their ninth straight victory yesterday by defeating the Giants, promises to give Pitts burgh another rival for first place honors. The Cardinals, with a pitching solve week and are proceeding at a slow rate.
